C. Of C. Announces Acquisition Of Another Industry

The fourth industry—this one employing 85 persons—to be brought to the Stroudsburgs in two weeks by Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce was reported yesterday.

Allies Strike Counterblows; Losses Heavy

Seoul, Wednesday (AP) — American Seventh Division troops counterattacked at dawn today under heavy Communist shelling in a renewed drive to win back the key bastion of Old Baldy guarding the main invasion route into South Korea.

Chinese Communist troops who hit the Western Front fortress Monday night with the heaviest attack in five months held most of the shell-scarred peak.

A day-long Seventh Division counterattack yesterday failed to drive off the Reds.

The Americans pulled back at dark but heavy artillery barrages from both sides crashed into the mud-coated slopes throughout the night.

Both sides poured fresh troops into the massive struggle and both sides were taking tremendous casualties.

Crashing artillery barrages and the flow of battle across the shell stripped crest of Old Baldy made it impossible to estimate the toll there in the first 36 hours of fighting.

But officers at the front estimated the Chinese had suffered more than 1,000 casualties in the early fighting on the wings—at T-Bone and Pork Chop Hills to the west of Old Baldy and at White Horse Mountain and Upper and Lower Alligator Jaw to the north-east.

AP Correspondent Stan Carter reported from the front that Americans and Colombians of the Seventh Division had taken heart-breaking losses.

Execution Date Set For Homeyer

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. John S. Fine yesterday set May 18 for the execution of 54-year-old Charles E. Homeyer, convicted Wyoming County wife slayer.

He was found guilty in June, 1951, of murdering his wife Anna, at their home in Factoryville on March 28, 1950. The State Supreme Court upheld the conviction which carries a death sentence.

The governor's office indicated Homeyer will appeal to the State Pardons Board for a reduction in sentence.

Chrysler Cuts Auto Prices $100 Average

Detroit, (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced last night an across-the-board price cut averaging $100 on all its passenger cars. The cuts were effective as of midnight last night.

The automobile company, one of the "big three" of the car industry, said it was pleased to announce the price cut "so shortly after the new administration's prompt ending of price controls."

Chrysler also said it was cutting the prices of its Dodge trucks an average of $40.

The Chrysler price reduction was the first major price change in the auto industry since the lifting of price controls.

Chrysler's competitors withheld immediate comment. But the price cut came as somewhat of a surprise to the industry.

Industry sources pointed out that manufacturing costs have increased somewhat in recent weeks because of the need of a large amount of overtime pay, extra shifts and Saturday operations to get the increased production the industry is trying to attain for what promises to be its most highly competitive post-war year.

Manufacturers Have Designs For Color TV Sets

New York (AP) — An official of an industry committee on color television said yesterday a substantial proportion of manufacturers have both the design and know-how to start producing color TV sets.

Arthur V. Loughren, vice chairman of the National Television System Committee, cautioned, however, that color sets "will cost two or three times as much as black and white sets at first."

Speaking at a news conference at the annual convention of the Institute of Radio Engineers, he estimated that within five years color sets would "cost no more than 50 per cent more" than black and white sets. "But they'll always cost more," he added.

Loughren was referring to sets designed to receive compatible color telecasts—those that also could be received in black and white on present type sets.

Lenten Meditation

By Cadet Helen White
The Salvation Army

"What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ?" — Matt. 27:22.

There are two things that you must do with Christ. You must either accept or you must reject him. The Roman soldiers chose to reject Christ and to crucify him. The Roman soldiers did not realize that he was going to carry their sins with Him when He went to the cruel cross.

Jesus Christ does not stand before us and say you must serve me, but He lets us make the choice.

When the decision came up to Pilate he went with the crowd and sent Jesus to be crucified. Now the question is put up to you. What will you do with Christ, will you accept him or reject him?

Senators Sean FBI Records, Grant Bohlen Clean Slate

Washington, (AP) — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) and Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) examined a secret 25-page FBI summary of an investigation of Charles E. Bohlen yesterday and said they found nothing beyond what Secretary of State Dulles had already reported.

Sparkman told reporters after a three-hour review of the document that he stood by his previous support of Bohlen's nomination as U. S. ambassador to Moscow.

Taft said he and Sparkman were in general agreement. The Ohio senator said, however, that he preferred not to make any statement until after reporting to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He has been supporting Bohlen since the outset of the Senate controversy over the nomination.

Taft and Sparkman both declared they found nothing in the FBI summary that had not been given to the committee in a recent "evaluation" by Dulles. Taft told newsmen he had received assurances from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover that Hoover was taking "full responsibility" that nothing of any consequence was left out of the summary.

The two senators had been assigned by the committee to scrutinize the FBI report—a summary of multiple field investigation reports—after some senators challenged Dulles' assertion that the FBI files contained nothing to disqualify Bohlen for the key diplomatic post at Moscow.

Taft said Hoover assured him that everything of a derogatory nature in the FBI "raw" files was contained in the summary. On the strength of those assurances, he did not ask to see the "raw" files.

He said he and Sparkman saw all the information the FBI gave to Dulles and to the State Department's top security officer, R. W. Scott McLeod.

Some senators had demanded that the Senate committee call McLeod for testimony on reports that Dulles cleared Bohlen over his own security chief's opposition.

Economy Bills Sent To Senate

Harrisburg (AP) — Fifteen economy recommendations of the Chesterman Committee won committee approval yesterday but faced extended debate on the Senate floor.

Bi-partisan sponsors of the measures emphasized that the bills were pushed through the Senate Rules Committee merely to get them in position for debate.

"No member of the Senate is committed to supporting these bills," said Sen. John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland). "We merely want to give every senator a chance to be a member of a committee of the whole to act on the bills."

U.S. Charges Reds Fabricated Story

Washington (AP) — The United States charged Russia yesterday with "fabricating" a story to cover up an "unwarranted" attack by Soviet jets on an American Air Force plane off the coast of Siberia.

Rejecting a Moscow version of the March 15 clash, latest in a series of aerial incidents, the State Department renewed the contention that the American plane was set upon when at least 25 miles from the nearest Soviet territory.

School Site Awaits Okay From State

Brodheadsville — County school directors approved the "Switzgable-Kunkle" tract as site for a proposed million-dollar Pleasant Valley High School yesterday.

Board action brought erection of the badly-needed secondary school one step closer. State appraisers must still give their okay to the site.

Meeting in a driving rainstorm, the five county board members—along with school officials—walked across the Switzgable tract located on Route 209 diagonally west of present Chestnuthill High School.

Board then talked over merits of the site; met in Chestnuthill's vocational agriculture room for a vote.

Accompanying the county board directors were John C. Litts, county superintendent of schools; John C. Mills and Harry Young, supervising principals of Chestnuthill and Polk Township Schools; and Thomas Rogers, president of the joint board.

Members of the county board are T. B. Courtright, president; Harry J. Drennan, secretary; Howard S. Eckert, treasurer; and Robert C. Frailey, member.

In his capacity as chief executive officer of the county board, Mr. Litts is privileged to enter discussions but is not allowed a vote according to law.

When the vote came, four of the five directors were in favor of the site. Only one member—Chestnuthill's Haiden Murphy—voted against it.

Murphy, from Effort, was one of two Chestnuthill board members who sat on the joint board, who voted to approve the Switzgable tract at the joint board's last meeting.

Both Murphy's and R. Newton Davenport's votes at the joint board meeting provided a last-minute switch which broke a deadlock and set machinery in motion for eventual approval by county board.

Murphy, Davenport and most members of Polk Township's board had previously held out for a tract of land owned by the West End Memorial Post of the American Legion.

Stiffer Exams Announced For Postmasterships

Washington (AP) — The administration yesterday opened up more than 1,400 choice postmaster appointments for brand new examinations, by junking eligibility exams for these places held during the past few months.

Republicans eager for federal patronage after 20 years out of power have been complaining that present lists of persons eligible for postmaster appointments are heavily weighted with Democrats.

A joint announcement by Postmaster General Arthur E. Sumner and Civil Service Chairman Phillip Young said the aim of yesterday's move was to "establish higher standards of eligibility."

King George V's Widow Succumbs To Long Illness

London (AP) — Queen Mary, the grand old lady of British royalty, died last night at her London residence.

The 85-year-old grandmother of Queen Elizabeth II succumbed after a prolonged battle with a gastric ailment. The official announcement of her death was made by Prime Minister Churchill to a hushed House of Commons.

Queen Mary, often called the "Grandmother of England," was the widow of King George V, who died in 1936. Her long life spanned the period from the imperial 19th Century days of Queen Victoria, through two world wars, to the tense times of the atom bomb and the cold war.

The immediate cause of death was not stated officially in the first announcements of her passing. A royal medical bulletin hours earlier disclosed that her heart was weakening.

The end came peacefully. Churchill sobbed as he announced in Commons that the revered widow of one King and mother of two other monarchs had died at 10:20 p.m. (5:20 p.m., EST).

"I have with great regret to make the announcement that Queen Mary has died while sleeping peacefully," Churchill said.

The 78-year-old Churchill's own political career began in the same Victorian era which saw Queen Mary's entrance into the royal family through her marriage to a son of the then Prince of Wales.

Churchill's voice broke with sobs as he announced the aged Queen Mary's death. But he went on to say:

"Tomorrow, immediately after prayers, I will move an address of condolence to the Queen (Elizabeth II) and propose the House should adjourn until Thursday as an expression of our profound sorrow and respect."

Queen Elizabeth was notified immediately at Buckingham Palace of her grandmother's death. The young Queen had paid a bedside visit to her aged grandmother only a few hours before.

The dramatic announcement of Queen Mary's death in Commons came shortly after Churchill, looking grave and holding a single sheet of paper, had entered. He was wearing a dinner jacket and conferred with the speaker before taking the floor.

Churchill first passed the written message of the aged Queen's death among both his own fellow ministers, on the government benches and among the Labor opposition. Herbert Morrison, deputy leader of the opposition, conferred earnestly with Churchill, and the House was alive with expectancy for the dramatic announcement.

Queen Mary's oldest son, the Duke of Windsor, who once sat on the throne as Edward VIII, had rushed from Florida when his mother was first stricken. He was the first member of the royal family to arrive at his mother's residence, Marlborough House, after her death.

The lord chamberlain, the Earl of Scarborough, will announce the length of the court mourning as soon as Queen Elizabeth II decides the question.

Only then will it be known whether Queen Mary's death will delay Queen Elizabeth's scheduled June 2 coronation.

One of Queen Mary's last reported wishes was that her death would not induce Queen Elizabeth to postpone the coronation. The reported wish was without official confirmation, but it would be entirely in character. Queen Mary always had been a stickler for selfless devotion to duty by royalty, and she helped instill this doctrine in her granddaughter as part of the young Elizabeth's training for queenhood.

No official offered any support for the report, but the impression prevailed in court circles that Elizabeth would carry on with coronation plans for the June 2 date. These plans now are far advanced and would be difficult to change.

London (AP) — Prime Minister Winston Churchill will broadcast to the nation at 9:15 p.m. (4:15 p.m., EST) today on the death of aged Queen Mary.

Eisenhower Expresses Sympathy

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower last night sent his "deep personal sympathy" to Queen Elizabeth II on the death of 85-year-old Queen Mary.

The White House announced that the President sent the following message to Winthrop Aldrich, U. S. Ambassador to Britain, for delivery to the British monarch:

"Please extend to Her Majesty and to all the members and people of the British Commonwealth my deep personal sympathy on the passing of Queen Mary."

"The hearts of all Americans go out to Her Majesty tonight as our prayers are extended to her, Princess Margaret, and the members of the royal family for the great personal loss they have sustained."

"Queen Mary was a good and great queen. Free peoples the world over will mourn her loss."

Dwight D. Eisenhower.

U.N. Fails Again

United Nations, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council failed again yesterday to elect a successor to Secretary General Trygve Lie. It decided to meet once more Friday and see whether Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky has brought new orders from Moscow permitting an agreement.

GILBERT—CRUSHED BODY of Shirley Kresge, 17, lies beneath the car from which she was thrown at 10:30 p.m. Monday. She was apparently killed instantly. Companion, Jean Wertheiser, 15, escaped with minor injuries. Impact snapped heavy utility pole. Story on Page 5.

Former Red Prisoner To Speak Here

Tonight at 7:30 the fourth in a series of mid-week Lenten services will be held in the First Presbyterian Church of Stroudsburg.

Guest speaker will be Rev. John D. Hayes, a Presbyterian missionary home on furlough from China. Mr. Hayes was released in September, 1952, from a Communist prison in Kweichow Province where he had been held for ten months.

Mr. Hayes is intimately familiar with the current revolutionary movement in China. He was born in Shantung Province to missionary parents.

He was educated in the United States at Wooster College and Princeton Theological Seminary. He attended Oxford as a Rhodes scholar and later studied at New College, Edinburgh, Scotland.

During the Second World War, Mr. Hayes spent two and one-half years in a Japanese internment camp. He returned to the States after the war but returned again in 1948 to serve in the home missions program of the Church of Christ in China.

When Kweichow came under the Communist regime he became a prisoner of the Reds.

Immediately following this service the Women's League of the church will hold its monthly meeting. Mrs. Bernetta Grimm will lead a panel discussion on the home and foreign missionaries who are supported by the local church.

'Foo' Dance Scheduled

Something new in the way of wacky titles has been coined by East Stroudsburg sophomores as a monicker for their annual dance.

Scheduled for Friday night in the high school gymnasium, the dance will be called a "Foo" dance.

Providing music for the dance of the "foos" will be "Gene" Walker's orchestra. Dancing begins at 8; ends at 11 p.m.

Committee chairmen are Judson Diehl, Nancy Pensyl, Adrian Tewksbury and Harvey Miller.

Sophomores yesterday admitted the whole thing might be a "little con-foo-sing" but it was still "amusing" with due apologies to Dogpatch.

Architect's drawing of new Monroe County YMCA building

YMCA Leaders Discuss Facilities Which New Building Will Provide

Dayton W. Frankenfield, president of the Monroe County Young Men's Christian Association, said yesterday the need for a new YMCA building and equipment and the modernization of the Barrett Township Branch had been studied for several years.

He spoke of the splendid service that the old building, now inadequate to serve the thriving communities and increasing population of Monroe County, had rendered in past years.

He said it is now necessary to raise $350,000 to supplement the $250,000 raised in the 1945 campaign to cover the cost of the construction and furnishing of the new YMCA which is designed as a County Community Center, and to modernize the Barrett Branch.

These facilities will replace the present building located at 809 Main St., Stroudsburg, which is a memorial to the late W. Burnett Easton, a Monroe County pioneer. This building has served the YMCA for over a third of a century and was built as a residence nearly a century ago.

The bronze plaque commemorating Mr. Easton will find a place of honor in the new building as will a plaque in recognition of the principle gift of Sebastian S. Kresge, and other plates of recognition of the memorial or designated gifts of individuals and organizations in the 1945 campaign and others which will be given in the 1953 campaign.

In speaking of the location of the new building he said it would be erected on the valuable and accessible site now occupied by the old building. (The first unit will be constructed in front of the old structure which can be used for activities until the first unit is completed and in use. The old structure will be torn down in preparation for the erection of the second and third units.) The old gymnasium will be modernized to serve youth in the most advantageous manner.

The decision to use the present site was made after the report of a committee consisting of the following: Jesse Flory, chairman, Holt Wyckoff, James Kitson, who after considerable study recommended its retention because of its availability to roads and transportation over the county and the major fact that the property represented a ground value of $50,000 plus the present gymnasium, also of considerable value.

The Building Committee consists of Dr. Joseph F. Noonan, chairman, J. Albert Groner, Jesse Flory, Mrs. C. R. Heller, James T. Kitson, C. R. Gilliam, Holt Wyckoff and M. S. Baldwin.

Features of the new building are: It will be designed, engineered and constructed locally. The Building Bureau of the National Board of the YMCA is co-operating as adviser. Monroe County will have a modern building adequate for present and future needs.

New ideas effectively used elsewhere have been studied in order that the Monroe County YMCA may provide the finest facilities for recreation, athletic training, social, religious and character building activities, not only for boys and girls and men and women of nearby communities, but as a center of YMCA activities throughout the area, in full cooperation with civic, welfare, religious and cultural organizations on a county-wide basis.

Its club rooms and features will become a "service center" for centers of population throughout the county as well as for the Stroudsburg.

The new building, three stories and a basement, will be devoted to a wide range of program activities, county-wide in their interest, serving girls and women, men and boys on a scheduled basis. Among its features will be: senior lobby and lounge, junior lobby and game room, senior counter and check room, junior counter and check room, three administration offices for YMCA building as well as county-wide program, work room and storage (storage space to conserve and make readily accessible program equipment.) Youth Center and club room, three club rooms for boys and girls, men and women on scheduled programs with adequate chair and program storage, service kitchen for scheduled meetings of Y clubs and county groups, ladies' power room, men's and boys' wash rooms, house storage and shop for adequate building maintenance.

Also gymnasium 45' x 75', natatorium 32' x 75' (tank 20' x 60') both Gymnasium and Natatorium will serve girls and women, men and boys on a scheduled basis, apparatus storage room for gymnasium equipment, two locker rooms, two shower rooms to serve boys and girls, men and women on a scheduled basis, drying, wash room, and clean-up area in connection with natatorium and gymnasium, special exercise room, 20 dormitory rooms — a home away from home for young men.

When asked when the new building will be built Mr. Frankenfield invited the citizens of Monroe County to come to the building site and watch the steam shovels digging the basement for the first unit. He said that the successful completion of the "finish the job" campaign for $350,000 will in part give the answer to the question as to the date the entire project can be completed.

Architects and engineers have prepared detailed plans and specifications. Bids have been received and the contract has been let for the first unit and the work is in progress. Work will be rushed on other units as rapidly as the coming "finish the job" campaign makes funds available.

In summarizing, Mr. Frankenfield said the present building is almost a century old. It was dedicated for YMCA use in 1915 for a population of 24,000. Monroe County now has a population of 34,500 and is rapidly growing. The building is inadequate in size. Overcrowding in the present Y building is preventing expansion of membership and program. There is a lack of modern equipment.

The Y needs attractive social recreation rooms, adequate number of clubrooms for group work program, modern swimming pool and gym, comfortable resident dormitory rooms. The building is out of date. Program emphasis has changed in the past 38 years. It is the "horse and buggy" versus "automobile and airplane" type of comparison. Antiquated facilities are handicapping the Monroe County YMCA program.

The building is expensive to maintain. Old buildings if they are to be kept in constant use, demand a constant upkeep struggle. Funds go into maintenance instead of program operation. The new building will be well located with ample space, retaining present property worth $100,000. The basic features in the new building will represent the best in modern architectural skill to meet the needs for the next half century.

Lenten Series Ends Tonight At St. John's

The sixth and last of the mid-week Lenten services will be conducted in St. John's Lutheran Church at 7:45 tonight.

Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlsen will preach on "Night Scenes of Our Lord's Passion." The particular theme will deal with His journey to Calvary. He will also read the sixth and seventh parts of the Passion History of the Lord and lead in the use of the Litany Prayers.

Robert H. Cathcart, organist and choirmaster, will use "Alegro Cisoluto" as a prelude and the Senior Choir will sing "God So Loved the World" as an offertory anthem. The choir will meet for rehearsal at the close of the service and the officers and teachers of the Church School will conduct their monthly business meeting.

It Wasn't All Wasted

The $50,000 of taxpayers' money spent to bring the Chesterman (Little Hoover) reports to the attention of the Pennsylvania legislature was not all wasted. It turned up many worthwhile proposals for improving administration of the state government.

If we are to consider any of the money wasted, it will be because of the General Assembly's patent unwillingness to take seriously the program and to do something to implement it. It was fairly obvious from the outset that the legislators do not want any outsiders telling them what to do, even if it means saving money for the state's taxpayers. This, of course, is in spite of the fact that Francis Chesterman and his very able and conscientious committee were named by Governor Fine.

There are many who condemn, unfairly we believe, the failure of Mr. Chesterman to agree to come before the hearing committees and defend publicly his proposals. The hearing committees used this as a weak excuse to drop the whole matter without further investigation.

Mr. Chesterman and his group had agreed to sit down with the committee for discussions, but refused to defend the proposals. We feel that the caliber of the committee headed by Mr. Chesterman was such that it should not be publicly exposed to spelling out a defense of its findings. The findings, barring a few things with which Governor Fine said he could not agree, were basically sound and offered the legislature an opportunity to save millions of dollars. This they seem to have taken less seriously than the proposals would seem to have warranted.

The Chesterman committee worked long and assiduously on its investigation and report. It worked as a favor to the Governor, and does not deserve to have its labors made a political football, which is largely what the legislative committee sought to do. No one, least of all the Chesterman committee, expected that the legislature would pass in toto the proposed reforms, but they should not have been made the goats by having the legislature refuse to proceed with the hearings unless Mr. Chesterman and his aides would come in and defend one-by-one each paragraph of the report.

As a result the people of Pennsylvania may lose the benefit of the report and its proposed reforms designed to save money and make unnecessary new taxes. But the money spent is not lost, if the Republican majority will keep its promise to introduce legislation covering recommendations in the report. That way the proposals will have the benefit of full debate and discussion. The people of the state should settle for nothing less than that.

It's The State's Ball!

The Borough of Stroudsburg has developed a plan for coping with parking, traffic movement and other factors which are pressing down on the growth of mercantile business in the borough.

All of the details are worked out—but must remain tentative—until the State Highway Department does something about the "through" traffic which their Planning and Traffic Division survey shows exists in Stroudsburg.

This survey—purchased by the Borough of Stroudsburg as a guide to deal with parking and traffic problems—was made in conjunction with the United States Bureau of Public Roads.

Facts developed by the survey show definitely that "through" traffic—that's the group which is headed for somewhere other than Stroudsburg—and the local traffic and parking problems are so tightly interwoven that they cannot be separated.

Half measures can be taken by the borough, but solid solution await the action of State Highway Department to ease the "through" traffic around—NOT THROUGH—Stroudsburg.

That four-lane Delaware River bridge will be done soon. It's time for the State to act on absolving Stroudsburg of "through" traffic.

Green shattered home—

Is it not YOURS, and MINE?

"At Elm and Main" on Yucca Flat

The super-sonic breath

Tears out the vitals of a home—

"The Residence of Death!"

In every city of the land

And through the countryside

There is a home "at Elm and Main"

Where calm and peace reside—

Within it refuge had been found

Where faith and hope endow

A dwelling with a sweet content—

But what about it NOW?

At "Elm and Main" has laughter rung—

There children have been born—

Some living on within the walls

Until grown old and worn;

Security was ever there

And succor from all fears—

But now above its gentleness

A desert monster looms.

I knew a home "at Elm and Main" . . .

It still is standing there;

For generations it has stood

And worn a timeless air;

How grim the portent and

Jack Anderson Elevated To State Civil Defense Position

Paul Crawn Takes Over Local Work

Jack Anderson, deputy coordinator of Monroe County Council of Civil Defense, has been relieved of duties here to assist the State Council of Civil Defense.

President Judge Fred W. Davis, coordinator in Monroe County, said yesterday that Mr. Anderson had been assigned to state headquarters "at the request of the State Council."

Richard Gerstell, director of Civil Defense in Pennsylvania, said Anderson will deal with organization problems in the entire eastern portion of Pennsylvania.

Paul Crawn, Shawnee-on-Delaware resident, has been named deputy coordinator, Judge Davis announced.

Mr. Anderson's work here as deputy with Judge Davis has won for Monroe County the "highest compliment they could pay us," Judge Davis said.

"They asked for our deputy coordinator and it's simply because of the splendid organizational work he has done here," the coordinator emphasized.

Monroe County Civil Defense organization has moved faster and further towards the ultimate goal desired in Civil Defense circles than any other section of the state and many portions of the nation.

This is a matter of record in state and national Civil Defense headquarters.

Mr. Anderson became deputy coordinator in August, 1951.

Since that time the development of Civil Defense organization has been a matter of steady, solid growth to the point where State Civil Defense officials said publicly on several occasions that this county rates highest in the state program.

Development of a proper civil defense organization—its staffing being the major problem—has been of great concern all over the country.

Judge Davis, with the organizational field work of Mr. Anderson, has insisted on bringing this county to the fore in sound organization.

Local Civil Defense authorities are aware that the Pocono Mountains region may become a tremendous evacuee center in case of attack. They have used this basic theory to build their local organization.

Mr. Crawn, instructor of English and journalism at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, has been identified with Civil Defense work in his home community and at the college.

Miss Kresge First Traffic Victim of 1953

Services for Shirley Kresge, 17, Gilbert, killed in an auto accident near her home Tuesday, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Kresge funeral home, Brodheadsville with Rev. C. Clyde Levergood conducting the services.

Burial will be at Effort Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday.

The fatal highway accident at 10:30 p.m. was the county's first for 1953.

Brodheadsville State police said Miss Kresge, a Polk Township High School senior, was driving west on Route 209. The car went out of control, veered off the highway on the left, rode with the front and rear left wheels in a deep ditch for about 100 feet, snapped off a service pole, rolled, and came to rest right-side up and its rear wheels in the ditch.

Miss Kresge was thrown out, and was lying beneath the smashed car. She was evidently killed instantly. A companion, Jean Werkheiser, 15, also of Gilbert, escaped without serious injury.

Miss Kresge was a member of Effort Methodist Church.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rene V. Kresge; three sisters, Mrs. Roland Kreger and Mrs. Clark Smith, both of Gilbert, and Rena Kresge, at home; and her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Kresge, Effort.

Builders Urged To Make Trades For Old Houses

Toronto (AP) — Canadian builders were urged this week to accept old houses as trade-ins on new ones.

That would help maintain the present production rate of new houses and apartments, said Emanuel M. Spiegel of New York, president of the United States National Association of Home Builders.

He predicted that such trade-in transactions would set the purchasing pattern in the United States during the next few years.

He said builders will repair and modernize the old houses and put them back on the market in new house condition.

Medical Draft Quotas Listed

Washington (AP) — U. S. business firms plan to spend more this year than ever before for new plant and equipment, thus keeping a principal economic boom factor working hard, the Department of Commerce reported.

The department's report was based on plans disclosed to government agencies by businessmen.

It said business capital outlays in 1953 are scheduled at a new record rate of 27 billion dollars. That would be 7.5 per cent as much as the 1952 gross national product (the sum of all spending in the country during the year) and 47 per cent as much as total private investment during 1952.

School Site Approved By County Board

At the Wednesday, March 11 meeting of the joint board, after hours of indecision and discussion, Eldred's Arlington Smith proposed a motion that the board agree on the compromise "Switzgale tract."

Smith put a short rider in his motion which insisted the board would pay only a maximum amount per acre for two and one-half acres of land owned by Mrs. Minnie Hill Kunkle.

Mrs. Kunkle's land lies along Route 209 almost in the middle of the Switzgale tract. Mrs. Kunkle had set a price for the land which Smith and some others on the board considered too high.

Therefore, Smith said, the board should pay a set price per acre for that two and one-half acres and no more.

Switzgale brothers had already agreed to sell the joint board all the land it needed or wanted from their tract. Price set by the brothers was $325 per acre for land belonging to them.

Maximum price set forth in the Smith motion for two and one-half acres belonging to Mrs. Kunkle: $400 per acre. Motion was seconded by John VanBuskirk, of Hamilton.

Following approval of Switzgale site yesterday morning, the ball bounced back to the joint board.

Next step: a survey of the site to provide description of land. This description of boundaries is necessary for approval of the site by State authorities.

Art Metal Distributes Back Pay

Distribution of approximately $72,000 in retroactive pay was made last week to about 950 employees of Art Metal Works, Inc., East Stroudsburg, subsidiary of Ronson Art Metal Works, Inc., makers of Ronson cigaret lighters.

H. A. Garaventi, plant manager, announced the payments covered a 2.7 percent general increase back to Oct. 1, 1951 for which approval from the Wage Stabilization Board was received recently.

They also include 3.75 percent general increase retroactive to Oct. 1, 1952, which was released for distribution when wage controls were lifted.

Most employees who received back pay are members of Local 1724, District 128, International Association of Machinists, Garaventi said.

Many People Have Built Own Homes

Let's build a house, you say. This makes your wife happy and she starts dreaming of how she'll tell the builders about all the cupboards and little conveniences she'd like. . . . Until you add:

"You can put on dungarees and lend a hand. You ought to be able to saw and maybe learn to drive nails straight."

In other words, you actually intend to do the building!

Would that be crazy? Well, for most people it might be. But for five families out of every 100 who acquired new homes within the past year, it made sense. According to government estimates, that percentage built their own homes.

So you can do it—if you do it the right way. This means professional help. Otherwise the idea can be loaded with trouble even for exceptionally handy and experienced people.

You can sink your life savings in lumber and other materials to be stacked on your lot and allowed to deteriorate in the weather. You can get a cold stare from your banker when you ask for credit. (What lender can take a chance on uncertain security?) Building codes can hamstring you. And fire insurance men may cross the street when they see you coming.

Finally you may get in so deep, you have to call in experienced builders to straighten out your project if you have enough money left to hire them.

A few years ago the National Association of Home Builders listed hundreds of tragic cases of disillusioned amateurs in every section of the country calling for professional help to salvage houses they started from easy-to-do-it books.

A practical compromise was worked out shortly after World War II by the Smithtown Lumber Corp. on New York's Long Island, through which complete outer shells of houses were erected on sound foundations. These unfinished homes were sold with good sized lots and all utilities installed for a fraction of what they might have cost finished. The owner could then exercise his do-it-yourself yearning by finishing the whole house, protected from the weather.

The idea was born in the days when the public was shocked by the postwar jump in building costs. Pre-war savings toward a home had suddenly shrunk to a point where they wouldn't buy half a house. So the Smithtown people figured that instead of cutting a house in half as to size, its cost could be cut to less than half and the house could remain full size.

The shell, constructed to conform to mortgage requirements, includes all framing, sheathing, asbestos siding, finished asphalt shingle roof over building felt on roof sheathing, copper flashing over doors and windows, and hardware on doors and windows, among other standard details.

With a house thus closed in, a handy amateur can go ahead with whatever insulation he prefers, lath and plaster or wallboard, finish flooring, woodwork, tiling, papering and painting to his heart's content. A rainy weekend doesn't mean a serious delay and worry about the soaking which open framework may be getting.

Fred Dolan, sales director for the Housing Guild, Inc., sponsor of shell-building by the lumber company, says the idea has been so popular around Smithtown, some 50 miles east of New York, that it has been extended throughout three nearby states. He is now persuading builders to extend the service nationally.

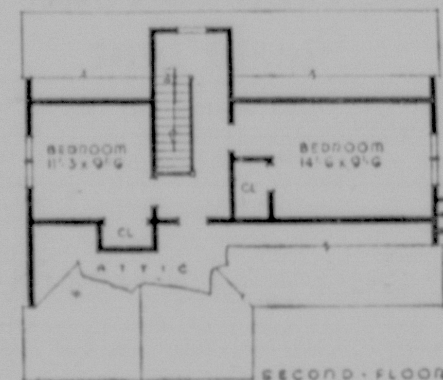

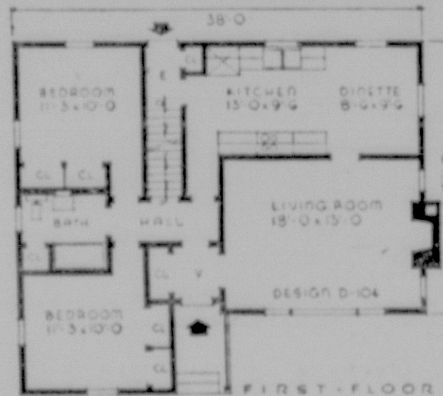

"Much of the work in building a house is too heavy and hazardous for a man and wife team," Dolan observes. "Digging an excavation, pouring footings and foundation, erecting framing, rafters and scaffolds, shingling a roof, can invite painful accidents for the uninitiated."

"But once that dangerous work is done, it can be fun to finish a house the way you want it."

Well, it takes an average building organization about four months to build and finish a sound six-room house. This means 80 to 100 working days for experts. An amateur, planning to start from the ground up, can form his own opinion about books that tell how a man and wife

Consider Size And Type When Purchasing Carpets

Floor covering plays an important part in home decoration. Carpets and rugs should not only be selected for quality and durability but also, through their pattern and color, for many years of livability.

Draperies, curtains, slipcovers, lamp shades and other accessories may be changed from time to time, at not too great an expense, but floor coverings, because of their initial cost, are expected to serve satisfactorily as part of the home furnishing for a long time.

When buying rugs or carpets there are three major points to consider in addition to the quality. These are the size, the color and the type.

Size: In selecting rugs the question of size is very important. If a rug is too small it affects the visual size of the room and tends to crowd the grouping of the furniture. In the average room, the rug should not have more than a foot of floor margin.

Yet, there's a place for some of these books. They offer sound information about construction. They help you to understand what you are paying for and why homes are built the way they are. But in the words of an expert:

"For 99 per cent of the people, trying to build their own homes (from the ground up) makes about as much sense as trying to build their own automobiles."

Near-sighted pupils often attain high grades in school because they are cut off from many sports which distract other pupils.

Patterned carpet lends character to a room—the pattern sets the style as well as determining the color scheme. Plain walls and subdued fabrics and accessories will emphasize the beauty of a patterned rug in a room.

Tone-on-tone and sculptured carpet, though not really plain, blends nicely with printed wallpaper and fabrics and offers the advantage of solid color plus the interest and practical features of patterned carpet.

Modernize Exterior Of House

Often it is the extremely modest home, trim, well kept and radiating warmth and hospitality, that arouses the interrogation "Isn't that a lovely home?"

It does not take a pretentious mansion to call forth such admiration, for more often than not it is neatness and maintenance that gives the dwelling its appeal.

Frequently a new coat of paint or a new roof will transform a rather drab home into one with a pleasant, inviting atmosphere. Sometimes more is needed—a new porch, a new entrance, dormer windows, a bit of landscaping. If it is a frame house, a brick or stucco veneer or stained shingles may be a better investment.

A check list of things which the home owner could do to modernize the exterior should include: Repair masonry and brickwork, point up masonry, sandblast brickwork, apply transparent waterproofing, make cornices and water tables weather-tight, waterproof basement walls, stucco side walls, brick veneer the exterior, paint weathering surfaces, replace defective flashing, pressure-gun caulking, install outside drain tile to conduct water away from foundation, install new areaways.

Chimney Pots Picturesque

Chimney pots are always a picturesque feature of the design of a house. They may be of many forms—simple pots for colonial dwellings, or products of English Gothic, Tudor or Georgian designs from old manor houses of England.

For the city house, suburban home or country estate, these pots are practical and appropriate. They add a final touch that gives the chimney a definitely finished appearance.

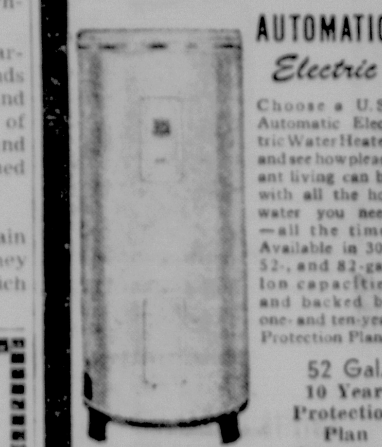

The chimney pot at its apex should not be less than two feet higher than the nearest peak roof and not less than three feet higher than the nearest flat roof. The flue of the pot should not be smaller than the chimney flue, although a larger flue is thoroughly practical. A round pot can be used with a rectangular flue or vice versa.

Tying Your Plants To Garden Stakes

Don't neglect your garden stakes. They should be placed early in the season, and several ties made as the plants grow. Generally speaking, the stakes should stand two-thirds as high as the mature plants, but dahlias, delphiniums, carnations, and other flowers with heavy heads or tall stalks need stakes even taller than this.

Never tie a flowering stalk directly to a stake. Use a figure 8 so that the tie around the stalk is flexible. The best way is to put half-a-dozen redwood, cedar, or steel stakes around the outside of the clump. Then use soft cord, strips of cloth, or Twist'ems, and tie round the clump, twisting the string again around each stake as it passes.

In doing this, leave one or two stems outside the string near each of the stakes. You can tie these against the stakes so that your stakes will be camouflaged. Should the center flower stems still seem to need support, stretch one or two across the clump from the stakes, twisting them around the flower stems on the way. This holds the clump firm even in a summer storm.

Average Summer Day Finds Traffic Snarled From Ninth And Main To Washington Street

(This is the third in a series of articles on traffic congestion in and through the Stroudsburgs, based on information contained in a survey made by State Department of Highways.)

By Leonard Randolph

On an average weekday in August, 1951 more than 15,000 vehicle trips were made over Stroudsburg's Main St.

Those cars contained an approximate 38,000 persons—six times the population of the borough.

Serious traffic congestion existed, on that day, from Ninth St. all the way down Main to the Washington St. crossing in East Stroudsburg.

Congestion was only slightly less on N. Courtland where traffic converged from Crystal and Washington.

N. Courtland had about 11,000 individual trips during that same day.

Startling though these figures may seem, they are the result of an actual count made during August, 1951 by the Planning and Traffic Division.

Survey was made at request of Stroudsburg borough council.

In one of a series of map traffic charts contained in its published account of the survey, the division lists the following traffic volumes on an average weekday for streets in the Stroudsburgs.

Route 90, leading down Bangor mountain and intersecting with 611 at the base of Foxtown Hill stands at the bottom rung with about 1,000 vehicle trips. Also in this category, or slightly lower, were Dreher Ave., Sarah St. in Stroudsburg.

On the upgrade in traffic volume were Seventh St., Sixth St., Eighth St., Broad St., Fifth St. and Lower Sarah St. in Stroudsburg; Brown St., Prospect, Ridgeway, Crystal, King and Route 190 turn-off at Eagle Valley Corner with 5,000 vehicles trips average day or slightly under.

Heavily loaded with traffic, Courtland St. between Analomink and Sixth St., East Stroudsburg, dwindled from a peak 10,000 to a low 7,000 vehicle trips during the average weekday.

Traffic on Route 611 down Foxtown Hill into Stroudsburg stayed at an approximate 7,500 vehicle-trip clip during the day, according to the survey.

Where the continuous stream of cars reaches traffic jam proportions comes, of course, when all main routes leading through the Stroudsburgs converge on Washington St., Main St. and Seventh St.

As each route disgorges its oversized burden, traffic congestion assumes mammoth proportions.

Stretching from the inter-borough bridge westward through Stroudsburg, the traffic began to unsnarl itself only after vehicles had reached Ninth St.

At this point, vehicular traffic divided with about 70 percent moving out Lackawanna Trail; the remaining 30 percent continuing westward on Main St. or Route 209.

Traffic going in an easterly direction began to divide principally on the corner of Ridgeway and Washington Sts., after crossing the bridge.

Other major diversions of traffic occurred at King St. and Eagle Valley Corner.

With the list of figures down in black and white, a major issue in the traffic survey becomes readily apparent.

Nearly three-fourths of all trips made on borough streets (either borough, take your pick) were designated as "through" traffic.

This means, basically, that Main and Washington St. were carrying a bumper-to-bumper crop of cars, trucks, buses, taxis and what-not, most of which had no intention of stopping in either town.

And the guy who lived on Sarah St. who wanted to go to work at an East Stroudsburg plant had to start a half-hour sooner just to make sure he got there on time.

If he was lucky, he made it.

Under direction of Dr. Earl Willhoite, choral and instrumental groups were heard in Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley" and Roy Ringwald's arrangement of spirituals depicting the Easter story.

1952 Season Abnormal For Forest Fires

Last year was the worst since 1947 in terms of forest fires, Monroe and Northampton County fire wardens and fire chiefs heard Monday night.

There were twice as many fires as in a normal year, said Chief Forest Fire Warden H. B. Rowland, of Harrisburg.

He was one of the speakers at the annual fire wardens' meeting, at Log Cabin Inn, Fern Ridge. Chief Rowland also discussed the national defense program in relation to local fire-fighting efforts, and reported on what steps are being taken by Pennsylvania to cooperate with adjoining states in time of disaster.

Also speaking on defense matters was Monroe County Civil Defense Director Fred W. Davis. He went over the history of Monroe's organization, explained what had been accomplished to date and what was still lacking.

About 100 attended, including members of 14 rural fire companies, State police, and Monroe County's game and fish wardens. They were welcomed by Inspector George W. Raish, and District Forester E. C. Pyle.

Other high-points: Chief Elmer Bishong, Mount Pocono, talked on equipment. Inspector Forrest C. Evans talked on use of a jeep fire-truck. Kunkletown Fire Co., organized last year, reported 200 members and 400 in the auxiliary.

Service awards were presented to Floyd DeHaven, Asa K. Shumaker, Franklin Redline and Clinton Werner, for completion of 20 years' service; and Sterling Wagner, Norman Possinger and Marshall Reese for 10 years' service.

Blind Pastor Preaches At Water Gap

Delaware Water Gap — A large congregation assembled at the Presbyterian Church here Sunday morning to hear Rev. Samuel Bemederfer, blind minister who is a candidate for the pulpit.

Accompanied by his seeing-eye dog, "Andy," Rev. Bemederfer climbed the pulpit steps under the canine's guidance and preached on "Let us Build Three Tabernacles Here."

Rev. Bemederfer was accompanied here by his wife and three-month-old son. He lost his eyesight at the age of 15 but succeeded in his education at Yale Divinity School where he graduated.

At present Rev. Bemederfer is in Wallingford, Conn., working with boys from 14 to 17 years of age at Choate School. While here Rev. and Mrs. Bemederfer and son stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carlton. They were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Buzzard.

He is expected to return here for Easter services.

March 11 marked a milestone for Clarence M. Treible of Stroudsburg RD1. He had rolled up a record of 17 years steady work for the East Stroudsburg Lumber Company. Treible is a millwright there. Before he took that job he was a pipe-fitter. He never has been off a day, he says, except January 9 when the ice storm prevented any work. During these 17 years, Treible missed five months in the winters of 1942 and 1943 when he served in the United States Army in the medical corp. CAS Board Plans For May Dinner

The Children's Aid Society board of directors met yesterday at their office on Sarah St. to plan for the annual meeting on Tuesday, May 19. They decided to make it a dinner meeting for the first time in several years, and to present as part of the program, the slides of the work in Monroe County which they will provide for program use next winter.

Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr., president at the meeting. She named Mrs. Donald Gilpin, Mrs. William Wells and Mrs. B. I. Fandler to the banquet committee.

Mrs. W. Dohy Palmer reported on the results of the clothing study made by the case committee over the past year. She analyzed the average cost per child and the wide fluctuation between individual children. Costs varied with the age and sex of the child, she pointed out, as well as with the child himself. Children received into the care of the society often needed to be completely outfitted. The average ran higher for boys than for girls.

A report of the present status of legislation regarding child care in Pennsylvania was given and directors were asked to write to the governor to urge that legislation be brought from committee for public discussion.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

While I was recounting all the musical events engaging the talents of our citizens, it occurred to me that there are simultaneously other major projects now underway that are also engaging a lot of talent.

The talent of persuasion, mostly. The Red Cross workers are attempting to wind up this year's Red Cross campaign, at the same time that the YMCA captains are enlisting their support in the coming building funds campaign, and the Cancer headquarters are building up for the cancer campaign.

Not to mention the persuasion that is now being exhibited by the nominating committees of the various organizations preparing for their April elections.

And lest you get to feeling that they're asking too much of you—entirely too much—just stop and consider who "they" are. "They" and "you" are for "us," pals, so you might as well let the housecleaning go, forget about getting that permanent before Easter, and get to the work at hand.

Nurse From Korea Tells Of Refugee's Plight

Mrs. Raymond Provost was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Church on Wednesday night, March 18 held at the manse.

Mrs. Provost, a registered nurse, gave a talk on her experiences among the refugees of Korea. Several times she has helped evacuate the hospital at Chonju and return later to start fresh. She described how grateful the refugees were for even a bare bed and springs or for one cup of milk.

She spoke of the Korean talent for cleanliness even under such difficulties. White clothes, worn in the dusty camps and washed in the streams, were kept white. She also testified to the hope which Christianity brought to those who came to the hospital in the depths of despair.

Mrs. Provost plans to return to Korea with her husband this summer to continue their work together.

Mrs. Hazel Smith and Mrs. Mary DeWitt served refreshments to the group.

Those attending were: Mrs. Ruth Warner, Mrs. Edith Cortright, Mrs. Vivian Vaughn, Mrs. Janet Richards, Mrs. Dora Hallett, Mrs. Mary DeWitt, Mrs. Hazel Smith, Mrs. Lois Crossan, Miss Ruth Miller, Mrs. Nellie Mosier and Mrs. Provost.

Friendly Class At Mission

The March meeting of the Friendly Adult Class of the 5th Street Presbyterian Mission was held at the Mission on Friday night, March 20. William Barry opened the meeting with prayer which was followed by the reading of the secretary's report by James Bradshaw and the treasurer's report by Miss Eunice Reaser.

Final plans for Easter were put in order. A discussion then followed as to how the entertainment committee could be induced to function more successfully. The decision reached, which should bring interesting and perhaps even humorous results, will give the men and women alternate turns in preparing the program.

Herbert Pooley had charge of the Bible lesson and he spoke of faith and immediate obedience. God called on many Biblical characters and asked them to go and do as he ordered and when God's plan was followed without hesitation or questioning, the results accomplished were miraculous. Abraham, Jacob and Gideon were cited as biblical examples of what God can do with lives given over to his direction.

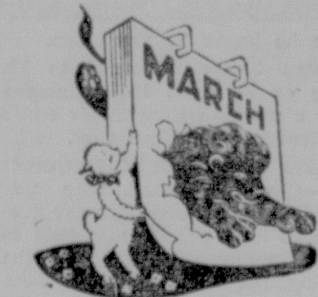

The meeting was dismissed in prayer by William Barry. Refreshments in the St. Patrick's Day motif were then served by Mrs. Pierre Lake and Miss Mildred Kintner.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lake and children.

Why Sylvia Was FRIGID

SYLVIA: "I'm not the only problem in our family—even if I did try to commit suicide."

EVERETT: "I thought she loved me, but then the whole truth came out. There are other women who don't look on me unfavorably."

Read the surprising truth—and the solution—as revealed by a marriage counselor's notebook. Here is a true case history. Get your copy of the April Ladies' Home Journal today and read "Can This Marriage Be Saved?"

We predict the hubbub about "crime programs" on television will soon die down. Newspapers in Cleveland and Chicago, especially, have been deriding the number of crime shows. But as one TV man replied, there's nothing on TV as juicy as the crime story. "Dick Tracy" or the front page of many newspapers. Among the top ten television shows only three are actually crime programs—"Crime Patrol," "Treasury Men in Action," and "Suspense." All three are on a high level of taste as well as entertainment.

And speaking of sociological matters, one of the major networks has shown a TV workshop to instruct the clergy in the art of shrewdly sermonizing on television! Bishop Fulton J. Sheen apparently doesn't need lessons on the basis of fan mail he's video's most popular single personality, with an average of 500 letters per week. Lions Club Pays Tribute To Veteran Kiwanis Officer

Stroudsburg Lions at their meeting in the Penn-Stroud Hotel last night were informed by William P. Deering of the illness of Arthur F. Everitt, pioneer service club worker of this area, who was operated on at the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, during the day.

The Lions were informed of the decades of faithful service given by Kiwanian Everitt to the ideals of the service club movement and to his staunch and long fight against ill health. He has been secretary of the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club for many years.

The Lions expressed keen sympathy and hope for the patient's immediate and complete recovery. Secretary Harold Snyder was instructed to send a letter to Mr. Everitt embodying the sympathy and good wishes of the club.

President Harry Phillips was in the chair and called a brief directors' meeting at the close of the dinner session.

The club's annual charter night will feature a banquet and dance.

It was voted to omit the regular session of April 7, as it falls in Charter week.

Herman Lex, who has been away from the club meetings for some time being ill and in the hospital, return to the fold and was given a rousing welcome.

The meeting was brief, most of the members going from the hotel to the Stroudsburg High School to attend the Community Chorus concert.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Harry Warner, the Readers' resident who is currently battling for the first base job with Toledo, of the "AAA" American Association, hit two more home runs, in addition to the one mentioned in this column yesterday, in training games. The former Pocono High athlete is having a fine spring and has an excellent chance of sticking with the Toledo club, although the Milwaukee Braves will undoubtedly return "Hank" Ertman to the American Association. There also is a chance that Ertman will be released outright by the Braves, due to the fact that he has been up and down between the minors and majors on several previous occasions.

Dick Marshall, hard hitting first baseman with the Stroudsburg Poconos in 1947, is now a lieutenant in the Navy at Norfolk, Va. Dick will always be remembered by this writer as hitting one of the longest homers that I have ever seen at Gordon Tiffels field. I forget the opposing club and the date, but I remember that Marshall hit a home run in the bottom of the ninth inning with the bases loaded, to enable the Poconos to tie the score. Stroudsburg went on to win in 12 innings, although I also forget the final count.

Marshall's four base blow that night carried over the fence in right center field and went three-quarters the way up the towering light pole as it left the park. It would have been a circuit blow in any major league park in the country. The New York Yankees once expected great things from Marshall as a player, but the husky former infielder is no longer active in baseball and is now doing his hitting for the Navy. Lefty Katz, former basketball player at Muhlenberg, was supposed to play with Newman's Dress Shop last night in the Monroe County YMCA Elimination Basketball Tournament. However, at the end of the first period Katz hadn't put in an appearance.

Dick James, former Stroudsburg High football and basketball star, was discharged from the Army just in time to take part in the present basketball tournament at the YMCA. Don James came out of semi-retirement to play for Newman's club. Ray Lambert, one of the officials in the present tournament, is scheduled to take over his summer duties as golf pro at Mountain Manor golf course early next month. Carl Sawatski, former hard hitting catcher with Bloomingdale, N. J., of the now defunct North Atlantic League, is putting up a real battle for the number one catching berth with the Chicago Cubs during the present spring training grind.

Sawatski, who is a resident of Mountlake, N. J., was with the Cubs for the best part of a season prior to being drafted for a two-year hitch in the Army. Sawatski, always a long ball hitter, even in the class "D" NAL, is currently up to his old tricks of hitting home runs during the present training grind. Carl is also a clever receiver when in good physical condition. The husky catcher is continually plagued by an overweight problem.

Jim Lemon, a teammate of Sawatski's at Bloomingdale, is making a strong bid for a regular outfield berth with Cleveland, as reported here yesterday. But the former Bloomingdale flycatcher is still plagued by his streakout habit. The big outfielder fanned eight times in his first 15 trips to the plate in training games. When not going down on strikes, Lemon has been powdering the ball for plenty of distance for the Indians. Reports from the Stroudsburg High baseball training grounds indicate that Floyd "Willie" Williams is recovering from a foot ailment.

The hard hitting first sacker suffered a broken leg last football season and has been on the shelf ever since. When Williams began running this spring his foot would swell and his little toe turned blue. According to additional reports the trouble was diagnosed as a pinched nerve. The Readers baseball club, an entry in the Pocono Mountains League, will hold a fund raising dance at Readers Hotel on Saturday. All proceeds from the affair will be used to run the baseball team during the coming summer months. Several teams in the Elimination Basketball Tournament at the YMCA will suffer the loss of players during the Easter vacation at ESSTC.

John "Whitey" Turner came off the shelf to play with Wagner's Garage in the YMCA tournament last night. Turner was a good basketball player while still a student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and shortly thereafter. A large crowd will undoubtedly be on hand for the annual demonstration of gymnastic activities put on by the Department of Health and Physical Education at ESSTC. The event each year draws near capacity crowds to the Normal Hill gymnasium. The events are those taught in gym classes during the course of the school year.

Danny O'Connell, third baseman for Bloomingdale, of the North Atlantic League, in 1946, is almost certain to hold down a regular position somewhere in the Pittsburgh infield this season.

Newman Quintets Triumph In Basketball Tournament

Close Contests Feature Second Day Of Play

Newman's Women's Apparel Shop had a big night in the Monroe County YMCA Elimination Basketball Tournament last night, as Newman sponsored teams won both the junior and senior division games played on the YMCA hardwood.

The junior division entry outlasted Sherman Theater, 65-55, in an overtime struggle, while Newman's senior quintet took the measure of Wagner's Garage, 75-60, although the winning team had to play the last eight minutes of the game with only four men. Personal fouls raised havoc with Newman's club in the nightcap.

Newman's five left a comfortable lead slip through its fingers in the opening tussle and Sherman Theater, paced by Benny Miller, pulled into a 50-50 tie at the end of regulation play.

Despite the brilliant play of Miller, Newman's club used its overall strength to build a 15-5 edge in overtime and march off the court with a 10-point victory.

Newman's engers made good on nine of 24 foul shots, while Sherman Theater hit on nine of 27 charity tosses.

Top Scorer
Miller brought down top scoring honors in the game with 23 points, on 10 field goals and three from the foul line. Jack Whittle led the winning attack with 17 markers.

The senior contest found Newman's club opening a wide lead early in the game against Wagner's Garage, leading 27-17 at the end of the first period and 42-24 at halftime.

Newman's quintet was bothered with personal fouls throughout the second half and a 26-14 edge in the final round brought Wagner's entry into contention during the late moments of the ball game. The losing team also was deprived of players due to five personal fouls in the late action.

Bill Weber led the winning attack with 25 points, while Clarence "Buck" Pipher was the leading point producer in the losing cause with 23 tallies.

Newman's club made good on 15 of 34 charity tosses, while Wagner's quintet hit the nets on 19 of 38 attempts from the free-throw line.

No action is planned in the tournament today, due to a Youth Rally at the YMCA. Tomorrow the tournament resumes and Jack's Market will meet Biggs' Restaurant at 7:15 p. m. in a senior battle.

A junior game between Pocono Manor Service Station and Turner's Meat Market is listed for 8:30 p. m.

Senators Refuse To Trade Jensen To Indians For Doby

Clearwater, Fla., (AP) — The Washington Senators yesterday turned down a proposed trade which would have sent Jackie Jensen to Cleveland in return for Larry Doby, the American Legion's top home run hitter.

Jensen and Doby are outfielders. The Senators said Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, proposed the swap to Calvin Griffith, vice president of the Senators.

View

Manager Buck Harris' view: "I don't blame them for wanting Jensen, but I wouldn't trade him for Doby or anybody else at this moment. He's going to be our solid man and the way he's been going he looks like the best outfielder in the league."

Giants Trip White Sox, 5-3

Phoenix, Ariz., (AP) — Home runs by pitcher Al Corwin and shortstop Alvin Dark in the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie and gave the New York Giants a 5-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox yesterday.

The Sox got off to a two-run lead in the second when southpaw Tommy Byrne singled off knuckleball star Hoyt Wilhelm with the bases loaded.

Hits

In the third the Giants bunched three hits, a walk and a hit batsman for three runs to jump in front. In the top of the seventh a double and two singles by the Pale Hose tied the score.

Nardico Wins By Freak Accident

Tampa, Fla., (AP) — Danny Nardico, 176, Tampa's light heavyweight contender, won a freak knockout over Nash Karahan, 187, in the first round of a scheduled 10-fighter here last night.

Nardico flicked Karahan with a left leg wildly, and was counted out by Referee Young Raymond in two minutes 57 seconds.

Charley Horse

Dr. M. A. Chardoff entered the ring and, after examining Karahan, said the boxer had suffered a muscular spasm or charley horse.

Little League Frowns On TV

Williamsport, (AP) — The board of directors of Little League Baseball, Inc., ruled yesterday that television of regular-season Little League games will not be permitted.

Neither will the indiscriminate appearance of Little League players on TV programs be allowed.

Consideration

President Peter J. McGovern said, however, that "more consideration" would be given to television of large tournaments, including the Little League World Series because of the interest of the players' families.

Penn Court Ace Joins All-Stars

St. Petersburg, Fla., (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals turned a hit and a walk into two runs yesterday for a 2-1 exhibition victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Two Runs
A walk, Red Schoendienst' triple and a long fly produced the tallies in the sixth inning.

Government Denies Plan To Investigate

Washington, (AP) — The Department of Justice last night denied reports it had ordered an immediate investigation of organized baseball.

The department also said in a statement no inquiry is planned into the refusal of American League club owners to let the St. Louis Browns move to Baltimore.

The department's statement said: "Reports that Attorney General Brownell had ordered an immediate investigation into organized baseball or into the refusal of the American League club owners to let the St. Louis Browns move to Baltimore, were denied yesterday by the Department of Justice."

Letters

"The attorney general's office said that it had received letters from Representatives Samuel N. Friedman (Democrat) and James P. S. Devereux (Republican) of Maryland in connection with this matter."

"The letters have not been answered. The representatives have been advised orally that their protests will be merged for consideration in connection with other charges of violation of the anti-trust laws in the field of sports, which have been under investigation for some time."

Friedel said earlier in the day he had been advised by the attorney general's office that a prompt investigation would be made in connection with the American League's recent ban on shifting the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore.

Friedel wrote Attorney General Brownell "a grave injustice" had been done to Baltimore by "a handful of men, the owners of the American League baseball teams, in refusing to transfer the St. Louis Browns' franchise to Baltimore after it has been literally promised by the same men."

Statement

Rep. Celler (D-NY) got out a statement saying:

"I applauded Brownell's decision to investigate the owners of the American League clubs to permit the transfer of the St. Louis Browns team to Baltimore. Apparently, chickens are coming home to roost."

Those who investigated baseball, namely the Celler Investigation Committee, last year, wanted the owners to put their house in order. They thought they were law unto themselves.

"They refused to heed the warnings. They refused to rearrange the status quo of clubs despite vast population changes."

Two Biddy Basketball League contests will be played at the Monroe County YMCA today. Koran's Roofers and Stroudsburg Candyland will clash at 4:05 p. m. while Stroudsburg Fire Department and Wyckoff-Sears match abilities 40 minutes later.

Barrett In Tourney Contest

Oxford, N. J.—Third and fourth games in the first round of the Oxford Lions Invitation Basketball Tournament will be played here at Central School today.

Pairings

Barrett and Roseto, two entries from Pennsylvania, clash in the opening game at 7 p. m. Action in the second contest will send Nazareth Holy Name against the Harmony Warriors, at 8:30 p. m.

Pen Argyl and Oxford won Monday's tournament games over Belvidere and Castle Creek, 58-52 and 67-44 respectively.

Irwin, Ashley Earn Right To Meet For Class 'B' PIAA Title With Verdicts Over Mercer, Darby

Harrisburg, (AP)—Irwin and Ashley last night entered the class "B" PIAA basketball championship game Friday by gaining the western and eastern titles.

Irwin's Black Knights from the WPIAL District Seven, favored to annex their third state championship, rolled over Mercer (District 10), 68-48, at New Wilmington.

Ashley, representing the Northern League of District Two, halted the unexpected surge of Darby's District 1 entry, upsetting the Rams, 72-58, at Allentown.

Irwin and Ashley will meet at the University of Pittsburgh Field House to decide who succeeds Avalon as class "B" titleholder. Irwin replaced Avalon as WPIAL champion when Avalon failed to win its section race.

For the Black Knights last night's win was the seventh straight of the playoffs. Ashley has five in a row.

Surprise Team

Darby had been the surprise team of the "B" bracket, knocking off Pine Grove (District 11) and Kutztown's two-time state champs to qualify for the eastern final.

Two state-tourney newcomers challenge a pair of former champs today in the class "A" semifinals of the month-long PIAA playoffs.

Meadville and Yeadon are the upstarts forming the opposition for Sharon and Allentown in regional title games to choose the finalists who will vie for the state trophy Saturday.

The schedule reads: Sharon (District seven), 25-3, vs Meadville (District 10), 21-4, at Pittsburgh in the western final. Allentown (District 11), 24-3, vs Yeadon (District one), 20-2, at Philadelphia in the eastern final.

Sharon's WPIAL rulers make their sixth appearance in the west's deciding game. Once, in 1930, the Bengals went on to the state championship.

When Allentown, takes the floor as the East Penn League representative, it will be the sixth time the Canaries have entered the eastern final. And, they've never lost one, going on to take the state's top prize every time. Twice their title was withdrawn, however.

Meadville's Bulldogs, winner of the Section Two race for the third straight season, enter their first western final as does Yeadon, co-champ of the suburban Philadelphia Section Two.

Allentown and Sharon carry the favored roles because of their previous tournament record and on the basis of tougher competition week by week through the season.

Sharon, loser to Ambridge, Johnstown and Farrell, also beat all three quintets in compiling 25 victories. The last was a thrilling 42-40 decision over Johnstown in a regional preliminary tilt.

Araujo Risks Title Chance

Cleveland, (AP) — Sleek George Araujo, of Providence, R. I., will risk a possible shot at the lightweight title tonight when he fights Teddy "Red Top" Davis of Hartford, Conn., in a nationally televised bout.

Recommendation

The joint board of the National Boxing Association and the New York State Boxing Commission has recommended that Araujo be matched with the winner of the title scrap between Champion Jimmy Carter and Tommy Collins in Boston April 24.

Dawson Decisions Hazell

London, (AP) — Bobby Dawson, an American Negro middleweight who now lives in Paris, gained a narrow victory on points over Gordon Hazell of England last night in a 10 round bout at Empress Hall.

Melbourne Solves Olympic Housing Issue

Sydney, Australia, (AP)—The way was cleared last night for Melbourne to keep the 1953 Olympic games after settlement of a thorny housing issue.

Victorian Premier John Cain announced his government had accepted the offer of the federal government for a loan of two million Australian pounds (approximately $5,714,000) for the erection of an Olympic village. The loan is interest free. The houses later will be used for residential developments.

Series
This was just one in a series of obstacles which faced the Olympic Organizing Committee and which for a while threatened Melbourne's hold on the games.

The chairman of the games control committee, A. W. Coles, said he is confident now that Australia's preparations will be accepted by the International Olympic Committee in Mexico City April 17.

Yankees Blank Red Sox, 9-0

Sarasota, Fla., (AP)—The New York Yankees won their third straight exhibition game with the Boston Red Sox, 9-0, yesterday as Ray Scarborough and Bob Kuzava combined to hurl a four-hitter.

Long Range
The contest was featured by long range batting on the part of the New Yorkers, who rapped out 14 hits, six of which were doubles and another a triple. Gil McGough led the slugging with a four-bagger and the three-bagger and Billy Martin drove in three runs.

Nelson Enters Fight To Clear Students Of Pro Charges

Denton, Texas, (AP)—Byron Nelson, one of golf's all-time greats, yesterday entered the fight to clear charges of professionalism leveled against members of North Texas State's national inter-collegiate champions.

The United States Golf Association suspended six members of North Texas State's three-time national championship squad and Billy Maxwell, former North Texas State player who was national amateur champion in 1951. The players named were Joe Conrad, San Antonio; Don January, Dallas; Marion Jiskey, Pocatello, Idaho; Stan Nosal, San Antonio; Bobby Maxwell, Big Spring, Tex.; and Ray Ferguson, Breckenridge, Tex.

Deprived
Maxwell, Conrad, January, Jiskey and Nosal were deprived of their amateur standing because they did not pay their own expenses to Mexico City to play in the Mexican Amateur last December. Bobby Maxwell, brother of Billy, and Ferguson were suspended for taking money to teach golf to other students at the college.

Nelson, a semi-retired golfer who owns a farm at Rognokel near here, came to the defense of three of the boys and told Fred Cobb, coach of the North Texas State team, that "I'll be happy to talk to USGA when I get up there and give them the facts I know about the story." Nelson said he was going to New York in May.

Milwaukee Trips Shantz, 6-1

West Palm Beach, Fla., (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves reached Bobby Shantz in the eighth inning yesterday and coasted to a 6-1 win over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Philharmonic To Appear Here Friday

One of America's youngest top-ranking conductors brings his Rochester Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra to the Stroudsburg Friday night as a part of Community Concert series.

Erich Leinsdorf

Erich Leinsdorf is 40 years old. The orchestra which he is now conducting is 30.

In terms of actual time, both are young. During the short span of years credited to each, however, both orchestra and conductor have acquitted themselves admirably.

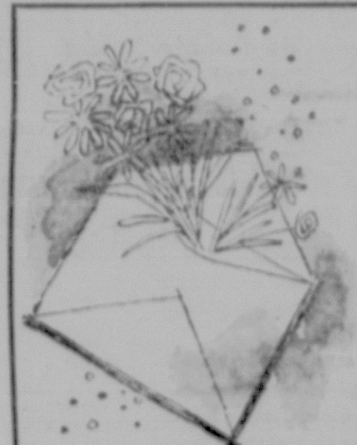

Leinsdorf served as assistant to Toscanini and Bruno Walter at the Salzburg and Florence festivals. He was chief conductor of the German Wing of the Metropolitan Opera for seven seasons.

Appointed permanent conductor of Cleveland Orchestra in 1943, Leinsdorf was drafted almost immediately into the Army. Upon discharge he was guest conductor for leading orchestras here and abroad.

He began guest-conductor engagements with the Rochester orchestra in 1946 and was appointed permanent conductor in 1947.

The well-known Rochester Philharmonic will play for local music lovers Friday at 8 p.m. in State Teachers College auditorium.

Heavy exposures to glare in bright sunlight or other glare may produce effects in the human eye which will reduce their efficiency for as much as 48 hours, says the American Optometric Association.
